Back to School, Back to Work: Ready, Set, Relaunch!

September has a way of resetting everyone. New routines, new schedules, a fresh sense of possibility.

So what if you used that same energy to restart your career?

For our next iRelaunch Power Hour, we're excited to welcome Tami Forman, for a practical conversation about getting ready, refocusing, and building real momentum in your return-to-work journey.

We'll cover how to shake off the summer slowdown and get organized, what to prioritize first when you're re-entering the workforce, and how to build the kind of steady momentum that carries you through a job search.

Building on the AI fluency conversation we started last session, Tami will also share how returners can use AI and other resources to refresh their skills, approach the search more strategically, and prepare themselves for what today's workplace expects.

💬 And bring your questions! We'll have a live Q&A with Tami, so come ready to ask about relaunch strategy, skill building, or wherever you're stuck right now.

 Tuesday, September 1, 2026

 12 PM PT | 1 PM MT | 2 PM CT | 3 PM ET

 Join us: Power Hour - Welcome

Whether you've been prepping all summer or you're starting fresh this week, come as you are. Welcome back, let's get ready to relaunch.
