

iRelaunch's Guide for Relaunchers

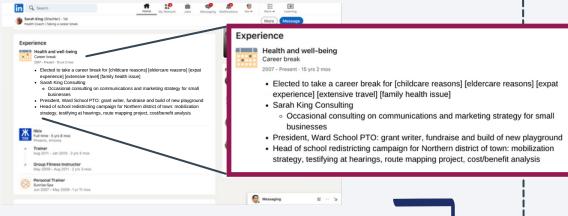

Share your Career Break screenshot, your LinkedIn profile link and the #CallOutYourBreak hashtag in the comments of any of iRelaunch's posts about our #CallOutYourBreak campaign. If you want to be featured on our LinkedIn #CallOutYourBreak newsletter, be sure to submit your links through this Google form. Finally, update your LinkedIn headshot with our #CallOutYourBreak photo frame! See page 2 of this guide for more details!

Need some inspiration or ideas on what to include in the description section of LinkedIn's Career Break feature? iRelaunch has got you covered!

You could choose to include recent and relevant coursework under the Career Break heading, a Github portfolio of technical problem solving, or even occasional income producing activities such as periodic consulting projects, substitute teaching or a part time side gig unrelated to your career goals.

Here's an example of how we recommend adding a career break to your resume when you are applying for a position that is a part of a career reentry program:

For more detailed guidance and advice on how to position your career break on resumes, cover letters, LinkedIn and during the Interview, check out Steps 22-27 of the iRelaunch Return to Work Roadmap.

Not sure what to say with your post on social media? Use our sample language below, or borrow what you like and make it your own!

"I just used LinkedIn's new Career Break feature so employers know I am eligible for their career reentry programs as part of iRelaunch's #CallOutYourBreak campaign! Check out my Career Break on my LinkedIn profile here! Thanks #iRelaunch and #LinkedIn!"

Important!

While you're more than welcome to tweak our sample language to fit your voice, please be sure to Include both the #iRelaunch and #CallOutYourBreak hashtags and to tag iRelaunch's and LinkedIn's social media accounts so your post gets maximum exposure! If you're feeling extra kind, we'd love it if you could link your post back to our campaign landing page to encourage even more relaunchers and employers to participate!

Add our #CallOutYourBreak Photo Frame to your LinkedIn profile so recruiters and employers know you are using the Career Break feature!

Click here to add our #CallOutYourBreak Photo Frame to the headshot of your choosing. It takes less than a minute to upload a picture, download the frame and upload to your LinkedIn profile.

Want more employers with career reentry programs and jobs to see your background and career break?

Be sure you register for our Job Board where employers go when they are specifically looking for relaunchers! It's free to join, plus you get top exposure to employers who want to see career paths with career breaks!