Getting You...
Back on the Career Track®

Weekly Insight

“When reaching out to people from the past, remember to include people who were junior to you. While you have been on career break, they have been moving up and can sometimes open a door for you”

Question #2:

What if I didn't think to connect ahead of time, but want to connect after the meeting or event? What do I write in that situation?

No problem. You can certainly connect after the meeting too.

The Script: What to write if you send the LinkedIn connection request after you met someone

“It was great to meet you at the iRelaunch Return to Work Conference yesterday. I was intrigued by your comments on the panel, especially your remark about X. I’m interested in your return to work program and am excited to apply.”

“It was great to meet you at the career fair last week. I saw you posted the X job, which I just applied for, and I wanted you to know. I’m very interested in the role and hope I get a chance to speak with your team about what I can offer the Y Company.”

“It was great to meet you in the xyz meeting yesterday. As I mentioned, I’m new to Company X as part of the Y Return to Work Program [Or if you are not in a return to work program: “As I mentioned, I’m new to Company X”]. Thought I’d reach out to connect on LI and hope to see you again soon.”
